Adjective/Relative Clauses
Part VI: Units 13 and 14

Work individually as a practice test. Then we’ll check your answers.
Combine

A-1. Marjory Abrams knows some people.
  2. They created products.
  3. They had been working on them for years.
--Answer Key--

A. Marjory Abram knows some people who created products that/which they had been working on for years.

OR

Marjory Abram knows some people who created products on which they had been working for years.
Combine

B-1. Frank Bibbo created a product.

2. It is guaranteed to capture media attention.

3. He came up with the idea about 15 years ago.
B. Frank Bibbo, who came up with the idea about 15 years ago, created a product that/which is guaranteed to capture media attention.
Combine

C—1. He was using leftover US Army fabric.
   2. He turned the Army fabric into an experimental blanket.
   3. The blanket absorbs stomach gas odors.
C. He was using leftover US Army fabric, which he turned into an experimental blanket that/which absorbs stomach gas odors.
Combine

D–1. He tried the blanket at home on their bed.

2. His wife was thrilled with the results there.
Answer

• D. He tried the blanket at home on their bed, where his wife was thrilled with the results.
E—1. He listed his product on a website.

2. He called it The Better Marriage Blanket.

3. He first tested the website to see if people were interested.
Answer

E. He listed his product which he called The Better Marriage Blanket on a website on which he first tested to see if people were interested.
Again, work individually for the next set.
2nd Example—Combine sentences.

F—1. Almost 20 years ago, Alexander Mauskop, MD, started researching his over-the-counter headache drug.
2. He is the founder and director of the New York Headache Center.
3. Migralex is the name of the drug.
Answer Key

• F—1. Almost 20 years ago, Alexander Mauskop, MD, who is the founder and director of the New York Headache Center, started researching his over-the-counter headache drug of which Migralex is the name.
Combine

G—1. The development process was completed last November.
   2. Migralex came to market then.
   3. The drug is a combination of aspirin and magnesium oxide.
Answer

- The development process was completed last November when Migralex, which is a combination of aspirin and magnesium oxide, came to market.
1. Combined

H—1. Surprisingly, Dr. Mauskop didn’t sell his product to any large companies.

2. They offered him a ready-to-sign contract.
Answer

• H. Surprisingly, Dr. Mauskop didn’t sell his product to any large companies which offered him a ready-to-sign contract.
Combine

1. He decided to market his headache drug with his own Web site.

2. He uses the Twitter and Facebook websites to attract interest there.
Answer

I--He decided to market his headache drug with his own Web Site where he uses Twitter and Facebook websites to attract interest.
Combine

1. He learned many things about the cost.
2. The cost was twice as much as he expected.
Answer

• J. He learned many things about the cost which was twice as much as he expected.
Combine sentences to make main clauses with adjective clauses.

A-1. Marjory Abrams knows some people.
   2. They created products.
   3. They had been working on them for years.

B-1. Frank Bibbo created a product.
   2. It is guaranteed to capture media attention.
   3. He came up with the idea about 15 years ago.

C-1. He was using leftover US Army fabric.
   2. He turned the Army fabric into an experimental blanket.
   3. The blanket absorbs stomach gas odors.
D—1. He tried the blanket at home on their bed.
   2. His wife was thrilled with the results there.

E—1. He listed his product on a website.
   2. He called it The Better Marriage Blanket.
   3. He first tested the website to see if people were interested in buying his product.

Work individually as a practice test.
Then we’ll check your answers.
Almost 20 years ago, Alexander Mauskop, MD, started researching his over-the-counter headache drug.

He is the founder and director of the New York Headache Center.

Migralex is the name of the drug.

The development process was completed last November.

Migralex came to market then.

The drug is a combination of aspirin and magnesium oxide.
H–1. Surprisingly, Dr. Mauskop didn’t sell his product to any large companies.
   2. They offered him a ready-to-sign contract.

I–1. He decided to market his headache drug with his own Web site.
   2. He uses the Twitter and Facebook websites to attract interest there.

J–1. He learned many things about the cost.
   2. The cost was twice as much as he expected.
--Answer Key--

A. Marjory Abram knows some people who created products that/which they had been working on for years.

OR

Marjory Abram knows some people who created products on which they had been working for years.
B. Frank Bibbo, who came up with the idea about 15 years ago, created a product that/which is guaranteed to capture media attention.

C. He was using leftover US Army fabric, which he turned into an experimental blanket that/which absorbs stomach gas odors.

D. He tried the blanket at home on their bed, where his wife was thrilled with the results.

E. He listed his product which he called The Better Marriage Blanket on a website which he first tested to see if people were interested in buying his product.
--Answer Key--

F—1. Almost 20 years ago, Alexander Mauskop, MD, who is the founder and director of the New York Headache Center, started researching his over-the-counter headache drug of which Migralex is the name.

G--The development process was completed last November when Migralex, which is a combination of aspirin and magnesium oxide, came to market.

H. Surprisingly, Dr. Mauskop didn’t sell his product to any large companies which offered him a ready-to-sign contract.
Answer key

I—He decided to market his headache drug himself with his own Web site where he uses the Twitter and Facebook websites to attract interest.

J. He learned many things about the cost which was twice as much as he expected.
H—1. Surprisingly, Dr. Mauskop didn’t sell his product to any large companies.
   2. They offered him a ready-to-sign contract.
I—1. He decided to market his headache drug himself with his own Web site.
   2. He uses the Twitter and Facebook websites to attract interest there.
J—1. He learned many things about the cost.
   2. The cost was twice as much as he expected.