

IMPERIAL COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

Major Components of a Grant Proposal

Organizational	Thematic
Title Page Organization's name Address Telephone Project Director Contact Person
Abstract Include: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Project Title 2. Need 3. Objectives 4. Methodology or Procedures 5. Resources, Personnel, Facilities, Uniqueness 6. Budget Hints: Keep it simple, short and precise. Do not use personal pronouns.	Who is submitting the proposal? This would be Imperial Valley College To whom are you submitting? What is it? State the title of your proposal and give a brief, one sentence description of the proposed project For whom? Who will be the benefactors when your proposal is successfully funded? Why is this project fundable? What is the need of the project? Why should it be funded? What are the objectives? How are you going to do it? Briefly describe the major activities How much will it cost? Give a general budget breakdown
Introduction-General Overview Present a clear and concise narrative describing the program proposal. Emphasize the reason(s) this project is important and will be more effective than present or past programs.	For instance, you may desire to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Indicate that the project is aimed at answering a need in education today • Show how the project is an extension of important research or development projects carried out by the writer or others • Show how the project will contribute knowledge
Assessment of Needs The needs assessment symbolizes the justification for the development of a program.	Needs Data can include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Educational records • Tests • Observational studies • Surveys
Goals and Objectives The needs should be used to formulate the general program goals and specific objectives.	A goal is a focus of accomplishment supported by a series of objectives needed to realize it <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Limit the number of goals and rank them in order of importance • Goals must be: broad, general intentions, intangible, abstract, cannot be validated An objective is a significant step toward a goal or a precise, measurable time-phased result <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Who is the target group? What they will be doing or receiving? What will be the result? How will you measure the result? • Objectives must be narrow, precise intentions, tangible, concrete, can be validated
Activities Solution procedures or program activities must be developed that	Develop solution procedures in a clear and d concise manner <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Describe strategies that will be used • Elaborate on the innovativeness of the program

describe your plan to achieve the objectives.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Focus on procedures, plans for community involvement (partnerships) • Indicate a timeline that portrays when the major activities will take place
Personnel, Facilities and Budget	Consider: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Salaries • Fringe benefits • Materials required to implement the program • Outside consultants, if needed • Project Evaluation • Equipment • Indirect Cost
Evaluation Description of the method to be used for evaluating the success of the project and documenting the implementation of the proposed design.	Design Evaluation <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Monitors and provides a continual flow of information regarding procedural design and implementation Project Evaluation <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • This is tied to the objectives • Include: methods and procedures to be used to evaluate all project components; • Demonstrate how feedback information will be used to improve the program; • Identify the instruments to be used to evaluate the program; • Identify the persons responsible for the evaluation